U. S. AMBULANCE SERVICE
PRAISED FOR COURAGE.

The entire section of the American field service sent to France by Leland Standard University last February is cited by General Mangin in orders to the division.

The citation of the section is made for its having given constantly since its arrival at the front an example of courage and profound devotion, especially at Verdun and Monvillers in pushing up to the battle lines under bombardment to carry away the wounded.

DEATHS.

JORDAN.

—Maida Jordan, aged fourteen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Jordan, of Eighth street, died at the St. Joseph Hospital, in Lexington, at eleven o'clock yesterday morning, from the after-effects of an operation performed in that institution for appendicitis.

The little girl manifested symptoms of the disease a day or so ago, but it was not thought she was in a serious condition until Saturday, when she was taken to the Lexington institution. An operation was performed Saturday night, but the young patient's system could not rally from the shock of the operation, which together with her weakened condition, brought death in its wake.

The little girl was one of the most lovable girls in the city, the light of her parents' household, and her sudden death and untimely passing away will leave an aching void in their hearts and a vacant place in the home. She was of a bright, sunny disposition, and made friends of everyone. The sympathy of the community goes out to the parents in their affliction. She is survived besides her parents, by one brother.

The body was brought to the stricken home in the Davis ambulance yesterday afternoon, and prepared for burial.

The funeral will be held at the Catholic church at nine o'clock tomorrow (Wednesday) morning, with services conducted by Rev. Father Eugene DeBruyn. The burial will follow on the family lot in the Catholic Cemetery.

The pall-bearers will be the following young friends of the deceased: John Walsh, Ralph Connell, Lanthman Woods, W. G. Mitchell, Reginald Kilkenney and Francis O'Rourke.

WEIL.

—The body of Mr. Maurice Weil, farmer, stockman and trader, who died of typhoid fever in Canada, last week, arrived in Lexington, his former home, Saturday night at 9:30 o'clock over the Southern railroad, and was taken to the home of his father, Mr. Simon Weil, in Fayette Park, where funeral services were held at three o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Following the services the burial took place on the family lot in the Lexington Cemetery. The active pall-bearers were Solomon Bloomfield, Louis Pushin, Simon Weil, Jr., Abram Hoffstadt and Jonas Weil. The honorary pall-bearers were John G. Stoll, J. Will Stoll, J. W. Porter, Simon Wolf, Jacob Speyer, Harry Klein, Moses Kauffman, Morris Lowenhart, Prof. L. K. Frankel and Gus J. Heyman.

The services at the grave were in charge of the Masonic lodges of Lexington, of which he was a member.

Many of the most prominent stock buyers and traders of Paris and Bourbon county attended the funeral. Mr. Weil was highly esteemed among the stockmen here, as he was a man of square dealings and of very pleasing personality.

COOK.

Dr. A. C. Cook, aged fifty-three, one of the best-known dentists in the State, died suddenly in Georgetown, Wednesday night. He was returning from the Chautauqua, and was seen by a passer-by to reel and fall to the ground. Death ensued from apoplexy before assistance could be summoned.

Dr. Cook was a native of Mason county. He had practiced dentistry in Millersburg for many years before removing to Georgetown. He married Miss Florence Adams, of Fleming county, who survives him.

The funeral took place in Georgetown, Friday afternoon at three o'clock, with services conducted by Rev. Dr. Ira Boswell. The body was interred in the Georgetown Cemetery.

CHRISTOPHERSON.

—Elder John Christopherson, pastor of the North Middletown Christian Church, received a telegram calling him to his old home in Wisconsin, on account of the death of his father. Elder and Mrs. Christopherson left immediately upon receipt of the news. They will be gone until August 8. During his absence Eld. Christopherson will deliver two addresses at the meeting of the Bethany Assembly, at Bethany Park, Indiana.

POTATO RESTRICTIONS REMOVED

Restrictions on importations of potatoes into the United States from Canada and Bermuda was removed after July 1 under an amendment to regulations of the Federal Horticultural Board, signed recently by the Secretary of Agriculture. The amendment also permits the importation of potatoes from any foreign country into Hawaii for local use only.

The ruling in regard to Bermuda and Canada is based on the fact that inspection of potatoes imported from those two countries during the last three years has shown that no serious potato diseases not already occurring in the United States exist in those regions.

Potatoes for local consumption are to be allowed to enter Hawaii from any country, since few potatoes are grown on the islands, and there is therefore little danger of diseases damaging local truck crops. All shipments of potatoes arriving in Hawaii, however, still will be inspected before they can be removed from the docks.

The quarantine against potatoes from Newfoundland and the islands of St. Pierre and Miquelon, on account of the potato-wart disease, remains in full force and effect.

MATRIMONIAL.

TODD—CRAFT.

—Miss Emma Johnson Todd and Mr. Robert Craft, both of the North Middletown vicinity, were married at the residence of the officiating minister, Rev. I. J. Spencer, in Lexington, recently.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. J. K. Todd, who resides on the Plum Lick pike, near North Middletown, and the groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Craft, of the same neighborhood. Mr. and Mrs. Craft will reside with the groom's parents on their farm on the Prescott pike.

HUNTER—WOLCOTT.

—Friends and relatives of Miss Hallie Hunter and Mr. Fred Wolcott, both members of prominent Winchester families, were greatly surprised to receive telegrams and telephone messages Saturday night from them, stating they had been married in Louisville late that evening.

The bride, who is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Hunter, of Winchester, has been a frequent visitor in Paris, as a guest of the family of Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Templin, of South Main street. The groom is a member of the Wolcott Milling Co., one of Winchester's most substantial industries. He is also well known in Paris in both social and business circles.

Mr. Wolcott called at the home of Miss Hunter, Saturday afternoon, stating that they would attend the local moving picture show. From Winchester they motored to Louisville, where the ceremony was performed. There was no parental objection to the marriage of the young people, but they preferred to use their own pleasure in the matter of the time, the place and the means to the end in view.

After a short bridal trip to points of interest and a visit to friends in Louisville, Mr. and Mrs. Wolcott returned to Winchester, where they will reside at the groom's home.

GERMANS MELT FRENCH
CHIMES FOR AMMUNITION.

Inhabitants of Nasyon, France, no longer have any doubt as to the fate of the bells and chimes of Northern France. Following those in Belgium, they have taken the road to German munition factories.

All the churches of the region of the Oise and the Somme were stripped of everything they contained in the form of copper and brass before the occupying troops retired. There is no reason to suppose that those still inside the German lines have been spared.

These depredations are actually felt in this region, which has been the country of bells and chimes since Charlemagne generalized their use throughout the empire.

Inhabitants of this region who were deported to Germany before the retreat and have since been repatriated bring news that the Germans have now attempted to "regularize" their rape of the bells by issuing a general "requisition" of all bells not dating as far back as the Middle Ages. Bells cast between 1400 and 1800 are spared only when they bear historical inscriptions or have otherwise an exceptional value historically or artistically. Since few of the bells of Northern France have the necessary antiquity to escape this regulation, it is assumed that all, or nearly all, of them have already been fired back upon French soil in the form of projectiles.

Most of the really ancient bells of France were destroyed during the revolution.

THE PEANUT BANK.

In a group of out-of-town bankers, who were making an inspection of the spacious banking room of the National City Bank recently, a man from Suffolk, Va., startled some of his colleagues of this and other cities by a statement to the effect that what is properly known as the "Peanut Bank" is probably the most prosperous institution in this country. He likewise stated positively that the "Peanut Bank" has yielded a larger return on the money invested than any other banking concern on this continent.

The "Peanut Bank" is officially known as Farmers' Bank of Nansemond, and owes its great prosperity to the peanut. It is located in Suffolk, Va., the center of a district where the goober flourishes as nowhere else in America. The bank started in 1869, with a capital of $20,000, which has never been changed. The men who own its 200 shares of stock have been made rich, for the reason that the $100 shares have a value well in excess of $5,000 each, and none offering for sale. It has a surplus and undivided profits of $1,000,000, loans in excess of $2,000,000, and cash in values and due from other banks usually amount to $1,000,000 of thereabouts. It is said that there never was such a bank for melon cutting. Dividends come at frequent and irregular intervals and range from 5 per cent. or 10 per cent. to 100 per cent. or more. Once upon a time, for some reason not specified, the bank startled the stockholders and natives with a 99 per cent. distribution.

The nearest approach in stock value and dividends is the Fifth Avenue Bank of New York City, whose $100 shares have a market value of about $4,600.

July, the month of mad dog scares, is now here, and this reminds us that if the cur canine population of Paris were reduced two-thirds, the people of this city would return thanks.

RELIGIOUS.

—The Jacktown church observed Sunday as Patriotic Sunday. A fair-sized free-will offering was taken in the Bible Class, which was turned over to the Red Cross Chapter.

—Rev. Dr. W. A. Ganfield, president of Center College, at Danville, who was the principal speaker at the mass-meeting at the court house Sunday afternoon, filled the pulpit at the Baptist church Sunday night.

—Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Soper, Misses Ruth and Mable Soper and Lawrence Soper and family recently moved from their church Sunday morning by letter from the Little Rock church. Mr. Soper and family recently moved from Little Rock to Paris to reside.

—Rev. Dr. O. R. Mangum preached at the Baptist church in Danville, Sunday morning, and also taught the Men's Club of the church at the afternoon session. The pulpit of the Paris church was filled Sunday by Rev. Frank W. Eberhardt, of Danville.

BIRTHS.

—To the wife of Mr. C. C. Brown, a daughter, first born. Mr. Brown is clerk in the office of Superintendent W. H. Anderson, of the L. & N., at Paris.

CENSORSHIP BY DIVINE RIGHT.

Inasmuch as Congress has not passed a censorship law the proceedings at Washington are well nigh incomprehensible. Dispatches are diverted from addresses to the War Department where they have been edited. This seems a strange exercise or assumption of authority in America. It is stated that this government is conforming in the main to censorship rules in the European countries. Censorship in England is a notorious failure as a war aid. Lord Northcliffe, who ought to know, has been in America warning this country against its adoption. Yet the department at Washington takes charge of the news and effects censorship without any enactment looking to its creation. Is this America?

OPERATION PERFORMED.

Drs. J. F. Reynolds and R. E. May, of Mt. Sterling, performed a difficult and delicate operation for eye trouble Sunday on Mr. W. B. Flanders, of near Paris, who formerly resided in Montgomery county. The patient is improving, with prospects of complete recovery.
